

PROMINENT JAPANESE OF HAWAII

DR. K. HAIDA

Dr. K. Haida was born in the Prefecture of Hiroshima, Japan, in June, A. D. 1862. He was among the first students who entered the primary school there, graduating at the age of 14 years. He then placed himself under the tutelage of a private teacher. During this time his father was taken sick and the then attending physician failed to improve his condition. The family summoned Dr. Hikel Usui, a well-known physician, through whose skill and scientific treatment his father was soon cured, and this turned the boy's thought to medicine. This was during 1881 and 1885. Mr. Haida was then only 19 years of age, but he applied himself to his chosen study. On January 26th, he left Yokosuka for Hawaii, arriving here on February 10, 1885. Having come here as a contract laborer, he was sent to Maui to work on the Paia plantation. On August 28, 1885, he returned to Honolulu as the result of a riot at Paia. While here he secured employment under T. J. King, holding that position until March 13, 1887. When the late Queen Kapioani left on the S. S. Australia for England to be present at the Jubilee, Haida went along as one of the servants to Her Majesty, leaving her, however, upon arrival at San Francisco. While there he entered the Cooper Medical College to carry out his chosen profession. This was in June, 1893. In December of 1897 he graduated with honor and began practicing immediately at Fresno, California. He remained there for one year and a half, during which time he studied under Dr. Eldenmuller. He then returned to the Islands on the 16th day of February, 1900. He is a specialist on diseases of women. On March 6th of the same year he secured a certificate to practice from the Territorial Board of Health. In November, 1901, he visited Japan and there married. He is now the father of three children. He is a special member of the Japanese Red Cross Society; was a member of the reception committee to Prince Fushimi, when that dignitary passed through here on July 3, 1906; organizer of the first Japanese Buddhist Association here; assisted in checking the Alea plague in March, 1907, with Board of Health officers and Drs. Oyama and Mitamura; was first requested to become a member of the Civic Federation two years ago; lately a member of the United States Fleet reception committee. Dr. Haida's career shows him to be a man of great perseverance, he having worked his way up inspired by great determination and worthy ambition.

SCRAPS

FROM THE NEWSMAN'S NOTES

Do you know Clem Quinn, the bailiff in Judge Robinson's court? Well, if you don't, I guess he knows you anyhow, for Clem has a wide acquaintance among all classes. He has other peculiar traits and one of these is a faculty of obeying orders down to the very dot. I happened to drop in to see Judge Robinson the other day, just after he had come back from the Coast, to enquire about his having cold feet while in California (he acknowledged the fact, but claimed that it was not confined to that portion of his body).

I had been chatting for awhile and hearing good news of Attorney Derby, McClanahan and others, when I came Judge Lindsey. He came, as I found out, to ask if the traveler had heard of the resignation of one of the most strenuous members of the local legal fraternity from a position of authority. While he was there one of his clerks came in with a paper to be signed, which he did at Judge Robinson's desk, and then looked around for a blotter.

There was none in sight apparently, but Robinson, seeing what was wanted, reached over and picked up a white fragment about four inches long and an inch wide, which proved to be the article desired. There were at least four of these on the desk. An explanation was asked and came.

It appears that some months ago Quinn in cutting blotters for Judge Robinson cut them about eighteen inches square. They would cover the entire desk. When remonstrated with in regard to his extravagance, Clem immediately took the hint and produced the new size, which is hardly big enough for a handkerchief for a mosquito. Economy in all things for Clem from now on.

Since the transport Thomas has been in port I have heard many comments upon the soldiers who are going through on her. The white men are about as usual a crowd as one could wish to see, and, though they have money, as they were paid off just before leaving San Francisco, they have been behaving themselves remarkably well. Their uniforms are noticeable on account of the fact that they fit well, and the men are undoubtedly a credit to the Army. In fact, as far as physical build goes, they are a much finer set than their officers.

The contrast, though, comes with the negro troops who are on board the Thomas. As a rule, the colored troops who come through here are well set up, are neat, clean and a fine class of soldiers. In the present case it is different.

There was a call down given in the Supreme Court the other day which it seems to me was well deserved and I must tell about it though it will be better to leave out names and places. A motion was being argued and the lawyers were quite heated over some point. One lawyer was ruled against and protested. He called the attention of one of the justices to the matter, the court still being in session: "Why, Judge, don't you remember talking this matter over with me at the club last week, and what you said then?"

The reply came after a slight flush: "Mr. ——— I should like you to understand that I remember nothing that was said in the club at that time. Further that I remember nothing that was said in any club at any time."

There was a short pause and the case went on.

JAMES EDWARD AND "PACKY" MATCHED

Will Fight In 'Frisco
At Bergers Club
March 31

Los Angeles, Cal., March 4. — Packy McFarland and Jimmy Britt will fight twenty rounds before the Washington Athletic Club of San Francisco March 31. The weight is to be 133 pounds by 3 o'clock.

This is the club operated by Sam Berger. Britt and McFarland are to receive 50 per cent. of the gross receipts to be divided 60 and 40. The referee to be selected ten days before the contest.

All three of the parties to the contract agree to post a forfeit of $2,500 with John T. Clark as a guarantee of good faith. Sam Berger left Los Angeles tonight on the Owl after making the above announcement.

Jimmy Britt was seen and confirmed the match. He will leave for San Francisco tomorrow night and will go into training immediately. McFarland was called up over the Examiner's leased wire at Chicago and asked to verify what Berger and Britt said regarding the match. McFarland's answer was to send the following telegram to Berger: "Will leave Thursday night and will keep good faith with you. Arrive in San Francisco on Sunday night and will post my forfeit on arrival."

Jimmy Britt made the following talk tonight: "I am leaving for the north Thursday night and will get ready for McFarland at once; I want to say that I will be much better when I fight McFarland than I was Tuesday night."

AUTO RACES AT ORMOND BEACH

Hotel Ormond, Fla., March 3. — Two long races of 100 miles, for the Minneapolis International world's championship trophy, and the other of 150 miles, for stock car chassis, made up the program of the opening day's auto races on the Ormond-Daytona beach today. Both resulted in disappointments.

Only two cars of the three starters were running when the winning car finished in the 100-mile race, which was won by E. Cedrino in the 60-horsepower Cyclone Fiat in 1:10:20.

The running of the 60-horsepower Benz car in the 150-mile stock car chassis race was the feature of the day. By covering the distance in 2:40:33, it established a new beach record. It was the first time that a race of more than 100 miles had been held on the beach. It covered the 100 miles in 1:07:31, beating the Fiat time by 2 minutes 49 seconds. The 40-horsepower Cleveland car, owned and driven by J. Laughlin III, was second, and had traveled 100 miles in 1:46:46 when the race was declared off.

SPORTIVE SPLURGES

Parisians are going crazy over the boxing game, which is known in France as "le boxe." An invitation has been extended to Champion Tommy Burns to come over and show himself in the gay city. When he leaves, the name of the game will have to be changed to "le boxe-of-fee."

FIGHT TO A DRAW

Boston, Mass., March 3. — Sam Langford of this city and Joe Jeannette of New York battled each other for twelve rounds before a big crowd at the Armory Club tonight and when the final gong sounded Referee Jack Sheehan declared the bout a draw.

Perhaps you suffer from the enfeebling effect of a prolonged spell of warm weather. If so, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will vitalize your blood and give you renewed force, vim, and energy.

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas.
